

Quality Corrections & Inspections Offers Repair Services

Because the shoe industry has been rapidly changing over the last 20 years and more manufacturers have been using off-shore manufacturing to help reduce costs, the industry has seen new problems popping up. As a result, Quality Corrections & Inspections Inc., is now offering shoe manufacturers a new repair and inspection service.

With over 24 years in business, Quality Corrections & Inspections (QCI) will inspect, rework, and repair shoes manufactured overseas, shoes whose quality is less than first rate. The company will also rework and repair production errors made by domestic firms as well, and can help solve a number of production problems.

The company's detail-oriented quality assurance inspectors can perform audits and 100% inspections using the customer's quality standards.

"Our company," says Doug Easley, "can sort first quality from second, analyze the defects, and, in most cases, perform the corrective measures necessary to solve the problem and make shoes saleable. We can help customers get their merchandise to market on time without having to return the merchandise to the original overseas manufacturer."

Among the many operations performed by QCI are: quality control inspections (sorting); large scale repair capabilities in volumes ranging from 100 pairs to 100,000 pairs; unlimited shoe repairing; refinishing (color changing of leather and vinyl goods); stitching repairs by machine and by hand; change sewn in labels, appliques and accessories; hardware replacement (buckles, bows, eyelets, snaps, rivets, zippers, and straps); sizing, sorting, pre-ticketing and labeling; and contract cutting and stitching.
