FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Quality Corrections & Inspections announces West Coast Expansion; Opening a New Production Facility in Henderson, NV, November 2003!

Quality Corrections & Inspections announced today that it would open its New West Coast Facility in Henderson, NV, November 2003! This new 40,000 sq. ft. branch of QCI will be a production facility, focusing primarily on the quality assurance needs of its Footwear, Apparel and General Merchandise clients as well as any other new prospective clients who may need QCI's Repair, Audits/Inspection and Packaging Services on the West Coast.

"We are very excited to have our new facility up and running in order to satisfy our customer needs on the West Coast, said Quality Corrections & Inspections President Ronald Burk. Many of our clients, who we have built a solid long-term relationship with at our current facility here on the East Coast, have expressed an interest in us having a West Coast Facility because they have so much merchandise coming through that region. They wanted to be able to receive the same care and satisfaction that they've been accustomed to getting from us now. We listened intently to their valuable input and are now ready to provide our West Coast customers also with that same level of exceptional customer service they have come to expect from us."

Randy Burk, QCI's General Operations Manager, will operate this facility and hire approximately 50 –75 new employees to start, with growth and expansion projected. Currently, QCI operates all production out of its 60,000 sq. ft. Duncansville, PA corporate facility.

"We hope to open our facility around the first week of November, added Burk. We're making all the necessary additions, adjustments and arrangements to our new facility as we speak in order to hit our opening goal date. In the meantime, all clients and prospective clients can call Doug Easly, our National Sales and Marketing Director, at (800) 340-8384 to discuss any projects they may need our assistance with."
